Uniform

Why wear uniform?

Different classes at RNB require different uniform. Wearing the correct attire for class is very important as it allows the dancer to 'feel' the style of dance they are performing.

Hip Hop allows and insists on the fashion of baggy clothes, but baggy clothes in the wrong class can result in bad habits and injury. Teachers need to see lines and the correct placement throughout the body for students to improve their technique. The correct uniform ensures that students are suitably dressed for class and clothing and footwear are safe and appropriate. Jewelry getting caught and flying hair can hurt! Uniform allows students and instructors to focus on position and movement without distraction.

A classical uniform can give a sense of belonging, class unity and pride in appearance. It also reinforces the discipline and respect inherent to the art. The tradition and etiquette of Ballet instills self-esteem in young dancers.

A relaxed approach to classes can also carry over to performances; the dancers are not at the standard they could be. Guest teachers and choreographers working with students are much more impressed with students who take pride in their appearance. This gives a lasting first impression and shows how enthusiastic they will approach a class.

Uniforms present a unified and prestigious look to observers, further enhancing the professional standard. RNB teachers will be enforcing our Dress Code.

Costumes At RNB

RNB is very pleased to offer a low costume service fee for costumes required for our performances. Other schools can charge up to $100 for each class per performance. We only charge a minimal fee which means you won't end up with a closet full of costumes never to be worn again!

RNB Dance charges a costume service fee for the use of RNB costumes. A costume fee of $25.00 per class per performance will be charged at time of registration. Costume fees do not apply to Technique or Stretch & Strength classes or similar classes that do not appear in the February or June Shows. Each time a costume needs to be pulled, bagged and laundered there is a charge of $25.00. Whether it's a t-shirt or tutu the service charge remains the same.

Festival costume fees will be included in your Festival Package if you are a competitive student at RNB.

Refunds will NOT be given to any student if they withdraw from RNB.
